

SECOND ANNUAL

Caroline's Cause

Golf Tournament

4-person Scramble

The success of last year's tournament enabled us to put money down on a handicap accessible van and make a generous contribution to Baylor College of Medicine in Texas for their continued research to find a cure for Rett Syndrome. This year we would like to step-up our efforts and continue to support Baylor College of Medicine and purchase a home lift system to move Caroline from room to room so that she can access her bedroom, bathroom, and living room with ease.

Rett Syndrome is a neurological disorder that has been reversed in trial studies using laboratory mice. Researchers are making strides to make Rett Syndrome the first neurological disorder to be cured.

Please be a part of our cause.
